RECOGNITION AND TRANSFORMATION SOLUTIONS FOR YOUR PRACTICE

NJAFP has extensive PCMH experience working with primary care practices, health plans and other entities. To date, NJAFP's multi-disciplinary staff has completed PCMH recognition and practice transformation projects with more than 70 primary care practices and close to 300 physicians, including the largest PCMH project in New Jersey. Clients receive resources, curriculum, materials, and hands-on assistance, enabling each practice to submit a complete and comprehensive survey tool to NCQA for Physician Practice Connections®- Patient-Centered Medical Home™ (PPC-PCMH) recognition. NJAFP's clients are located throughout the United States.

NJAFP is a recognized leader having successfully initiated and completed projects targeted at providing outcome-based initiatives both locally and nationally, which serve to help primary care practices deliver better care to their patients. NJAFP is committed to playing a key role in supporting and endorsing PCMH activities, and has documented success in developing and providing comprehensive programs to primary care practices seeking NCQA PPC-PCMH recognition. Programs are developed based on client need and budget. For more information about how NJAFP can customize a project for you, contact Cari Miller, Director of Program Operations, NJAFP.
